

FCF Professional Development Staff

Zeta Furry has extensive training in communications, conflict management, and character development. She also adds 50 years of horsemanship to the seminar experience. Zeta possesses a B.S. Ed in secondary English and communications from Penn State University and 20 years of supervisory teaching experience in alternative and traditional education settings under PA Dept. of Ed. and Dept. of Public Welfare regulations. Additionally, she developed an integrated academic, vocational, and equine-assisted therapy program for secondary education students that has been lauded by University of Maryland Curriculum and Instruction Department and Pittsburgh and Philadelphia juvenile court systems. Trained in community coalition development, Zeta is the former PA State Chairperson for the Drug Free Communities Collaborative Planning Committee. Zeta is now a communications course facilitator and curriculum developer for a national educational services provider. The owner of FCF, she is also a certified horse trainer and riding instructor.

With a Ph.D. in communications media and instructional technology from Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Britta McCreary is an adjunct instructor for Southern New Hampshire University, where she teaches courses in media ethics and law, professional writing and editing, English grammar, and introductory composition. She is a writer, editor, and research analyst with 15 years of professional experience in journalism, marketing, and communications and almost a decade of experience at college-level instruction.

Heyward Myers brings years of varied horse and business experience to FCF. A former Marine helicopter mechanic in Vietnam, Heyward owns Black Forest Auto and has specialized in repairing higher end German cars for more than 30 years. His business savvy has enabled him to run a thriving automobile business in the suburban Philadelphia area. Heyward co-owns the FCF equine business.

The FCF horses are safe, well-trained, and people-friendly. Many of the horses at FCF were rescued, and others have been at FCF for most of their lives. Most of our horses work regularly throughout the week providing riding lessons. During their lives at FCF, some have worked with at-risk youths in residential facilities. For safety and effectiveness, horses are paired with participants to create the maximum experience in our seminars.
